A Peek into Dormitory Life at President University

Studying in the University can be an overwhelming experience for incoming freshmen. Seniors from high school suddenly find themselves as juniors and, not to mention, the workload feels unbearable especially when English is not their mother language. Easing the adjustment from high school life to the University life is a key to ensuring success at President University. Students must cope with shared bathrooms, dormitory liveliness, and alluring food courts. This guide will help the students to cope with these challenges and ease their transition to the next chapter of their lives.

Room Facilities

- Fully furnished
- Complete set of two cozy separate beds (bed covers, pillows, and cushions)
- Two desks & two chairs
- One shared cupboard
- Air Conditioning (AC)
- Two shared large bathrooms (enough to accommodate all the residents)
- Fancy homey-like outlook

For students who enjoy the convenience of being close to all campus activities, staying at our comfy student housing may become a preferable alternative among many staying choices around the campus area. Student housing offers a short walk to the President University campus.

The President University Student Housing (dormitory) has diverse communities. Residents of the student housing enjoy the active social environment and the opportunity to meet other students from outside their faculties, as well as from previous batches and programs.

Approximately 80% of all President University students live in the student housing, nearly 100% of all overseas students and 80% of local students. The options range from traditional single-occupancy dormitories to spacious suite-style housing, designed for 4 occupants. All operate on a 4-month to 12-month contract, are fully furnished and include air conditioner and Wi-Fi modem. Who your roommate is will be decided by the management when you first arrive, but later can be negotiated.
